OFFICE SPACE SCENE STEALER TODD DUFFEY JOINS THE CAST OF FRONTIERS: THE LIVE EXPERIENCE

TODD DUFFEY — the hysterical, hyper-kinetic purveyor of pizza shooters, shrimp poppers and extreme fajitas in the cult classic OFFICE SPACE — has joined the cast of FRONTIERS: THE LIVE EXPERIENCE.

He plays “Kadzo Dazmanagon,” a likable, tattoo-covered, alien antagonist who sets in motion a series of life changing events for our heroes.

Todd was born in Raleigh, North Carolina, but grew up in Texas after moving there at the age of three. He began acting in theatre in the third grade and, by the fourth grade, was performing in professional productions at the Alley Theatre in Houston.

In junior high, he moved to Dallas and began working in film. His breakthrough performance came in the independent feature ACROSS FIVE APRILS, for which he received the Western Heritage Award from the National Cowboy Museum.

After studying theatre at the Booker T. Washington High School for Performing and Visual Arts in Dallas, he advanced to the University of Texas, majoring in film and video arts.

His film and television work includes his scenes-stealing turn as “Brian,” the Chotchkie’s waiter in OFFICE SPACE, “Scooter McNutty” in the classic children’s series BARNEY AND FRIENDS, a recurring role on BUFFY THE VAMPIRE SLAYER and guest appearances on series ranging from CHARMED and THE DREW CAREY SHOW to WALKER, TEXAS RANGER and E.R.

Todd also champions a number of social and environmental causes in the Los Angeles area.
